CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE – Cllr Martin Cross

Following Dee's resignation, and after being the Vice Chairman for a few years, I am now the Chair!
Since my appointment, I have joined several meetings including a 20's plenty road safety meeting, and an inaugural Chelmsford and District Association group. This is hoping to reform a past group which should enable two parish chairs to get votes on the Essex Association of Local Council's meetings and gives parishes another voice. Both attended via the internet from the comfort of my home.
My inbox is expanding rapidly and the Parish have been invited to meet the PFCC (the Police, Fire and Crime Commissioner) to ask questions…..for six hours!
Sadly, we recently lost our previous City Councillor Ian Wright whose funeral I attended. Also, we had news of the death of Ian Grundy our County Councillor for many years. Both will be missed for their services.
The deadline for print is approaching, so I'll leave by offering season greetings to all parishioners.

REFLECTIONS OF THE OUTGOING PARISH COUNCIL CHAIRPERSON - Dee Hyatt

Was it really eleven years ago that I agreed to become a Parish Councillor, then asked to become the Chairperson?

It is daunting to be the Chair of the local Parish Council. You are given very good training and once complete, you are presented with a very nice handmade gavel. You realise the unpaid position is focussed on the community, keeping them informed and ensuring the Parish is run efficiently with monthly meetings. This involves trying to maintain the general look of the area, and the village greens.

The whole Council have to know what is going on, and has representation in most of the local organisations, which is really useful.

Planning is a big part of the role. All applications are passed to the Clerk and he circulates to the Councillors. After due consideration by the Council, comments are sent to the City Council, who look at the comments received from all the main organisations like Highways, and of course from the general public. Some applications, like the proposed Warehouse development, contains thousands of pages which need to be gone through, while looking at the Local Plan, Neighbourhood Plan and NPPF etc. to enable an educated response. A lot of hard work goes on behind the scenes…..

It is a team effort and Sandon are very blessed to have a very efficient clerk which is so important.

I did enjoy my time with the Council, and can recommend it as a way of meeting people, making a difference, and finding out what is going on in your area.

Dee Hyatt

THE BENEFITS OF BECOMING A PARISH COUNCILLOR FOR SANDON P.C.

Following the resignation of Dee (see previous article), we now have a vacancy for a new councillor.

Would anyone out there like to take over this prestigious role? Please note that it is not that onerous. At the very least, we would want you to attend our regular monthly evening meetings. These are always held on the second Monday of each month. Whether you wish to contribute more, then it is entirely up to you. You are a volunteer after all. Note that there are a number of benefits in becoming a councillor. Here are just a few:

Shaping the future of the parish – You have the ability to influence decisions that affect the village and its future.
Promoting environmental initiatives – Sandon P.C. is a rural parish surrounded by green spaces. You can influence how the rural environment can be sustained and improved.
Developing a stronger community – Being a councillor gives you the opportunity to engage with the various organisations that support village life and inclusiveness. It is a great way to get to know your fellow residents and what goes on in the parish.
Gaining new skills and experiences – The role of a councillor can also bring personal development opportunities. There are many different training courses that you could attend. This will help you understand how local government operates giving you valuable insights that can be applied in other areas of life or future careers
Making a difference – Above all, being a councillor is about making a tangible difference. You are at the forefront of helping to preserve Sandon's rich heritage while ensuring that the village remains vibrant and welcoming for future generations. Your involvement in addressing local concerns will have a lasting impact on the community

SO WHAT ARE YOU WAITING FOR!
Please contact the clerk (see back page) for more information about how you can become a councillor, and start a new, exiting, chapter in your career

CHELMSFORD CITY COUNCIL'S LOCAL PLAN PREFERRED OPTIONS CONSULTATION

Since the last edition of Sandon Topics, the second formal stage of the public consultation for Chelmsford City Council's Local Plan Preferred Options was completed. This plan is for the local area and the development requirements up until 2041. This plan includes 16a (Hammonds Farm) and 16b (Pigeon Columba Park) both of which are in our Parish. The number of public responses to the plan was huge, with over 10,000 responses received.

The six week programme of consultation took place during the consultation period which ran from 8th May to 19th June 2024 on what is formally known as the Local Plan Preferred Options and its accompanying Integrated Impact Assessment (IIA). The Preferred Options consultation represents the second formal stage in the preparation of the review of the adopted Local Plan. This stage of the process sought to gather views on a new full draft plan including the plan vision, priorities, site allocations and planning policies to meet development requirements up to 2041 and the draft policies map.

After reviewing all of the feedback received, at the Chelmsford Policy Board meeting in September, there was a presentation by Claire Stuckey, Principal Planning Officer followed by questions from the public and City Councillors with these being answered by Jeremy Potter, Spatial Planning Services Manager. The presentation by Claire covered feedback on two items - the Preferred Local Plan and the Integrated Impact Assessment and the work undertaken ready for the next stage which is the Pre-Submission Local Plan. The current stage is known as 'Stage 1 You Said'. The next stage is known as 'You Did We Said'. Although the feedback had been collated, Claire emphasised that it had not been analysed yet. The You Said, We Did feedback report will be released in December 2024 and the Pre-Submission Local Plan will also be presented to the Board then. The Consultation on the Pre-submission Local Plan will take place in 2025.

Although concerns were raised about the possibility of local infrastructure projects being cancelled (A12 widening, Army & Navy hamburger solution), Jeremy advised that the situation on this was unclear and that the Council were awaiting the Government's budget on October 30th (at the time of writing, the Budget has now taken place). In the meeting it was advised that it was not known when the new NPPF (National Planning Policy Framework) will be published and Chelmsford City Council are awaiting the transitional arrangements. Jeremy advised that he thought it was best to continue with the current targets and plan.

The next steps were confirmed as follows:

1. The Consultation responses will now be considered in detail and used alongside the plan evidence base and Government policy to inform the Pre-Submission Local Plan.
2. Preparation of new evidence base studies including further detailed Traffic Modelling and new Open Space and Air Quality Assessments.
3. Continue discussions with duty bodies and infrastructure providers.
4. Present the Pre-Submission Local Plan to the Board in December 2024 alongside a 'You Did We Said ' Feedback Report.
5. Consult on the Pre-Submission Local Plan in early 2025.

THE NO TO HAMMONDS FARM CAMPAIGN

Our Vice Chair Cllr Lyons and Chair Cllr Cross

In the meantime, the No To Hammonds Farm working group continue their campaign. Throughout the Summer and Autumn they have been focusing on increasing awareness for those not aware of the plans, maintaining momentum and raising vital campaign funds. The group continues to meet on a regular basis and have also been at many public events too, whether it be the 'Sustainable Danbury and Love Your Chelmsford Eco Day 'or at fun events like the 'Autumn Craft Fair and Spooky Trail' in Danbury!

The team was absolutely thrilled that over 10,000 objections were received in the above public consultation. Referred to as 16a (Hammonds Farm) and 16b (Pigeon Columba Park) in the Local Plan, to have this many objections received and officially acknowledged by Chelmsford City Council really shows the strength of concern and objection to these plans by people in the local area and the monumental response underscores the community's determination to protect green spaces and quality of life.

As the third and final public consultation approaches, expected to be in January 2025, not only will the working group ask that everyone who raised an objection in the second round does so again in the third round, but the number of objections needs to be further increased with even more supporters brought onboard.

Look out for public meetings around the parishes once again, as soon as the third and final public consultation period opens - the working group will be sure to update and instruct you on how best to object.

The team would like to extend their sincere thanks to everyone who has donated to their fundraiser. More than 43% has been raised of the £55,000 target. The working group has instructed a KC (King's Counsel) to work on their behalf and these funds are crucial for covering essential legal costs, environmental surveys and expert witness testimony.

Should you wish to be involved and support the campaign, regular newsletters are sent out via email, updates provided via the social media channels (Facebook, Instagram and X/Twitter) and all information is provided on the website which has been set up especially (see below).

Should you wish to donate, please visit:
https://www.gofundme.com/f/No-To-Hammonds-Farm

The No To Hammonds Farm website is www.notohammondsfarm.co.uk

For reference, here is a map and more information on some of the terms referred to above:

16a in the Local Plan: Hammonds Farm is the proposed new garden Community consisting of 3,100 houses and 500,000 square feet of industrial and business park.

16b in the Local Plan: Columba Park (Pigeon) is a separate (additional) 500,000 square feet for the business park and industrial site development

Note, Pigeon (Columba Park) advised in late October 2024 that they are anticipating that they will be making an outline planning application submission before the end of 2024 and once submitted, would like to meet with Sandon Parish Council.

SANDON COMMUNITY SPORTS CENTRE

After a lengthy process, the Sandon Community Sports Centre has received charitable registration. Its number is 1209962

The trustees of the charity are:
James Colbeck
Chris Walshe
Cedric Calmeyer
Karen Church
Alan Kalbfell
Nick Karmy
Darren Chaplin

At the first meeting of the trustees, Chris Walshe was voted Chairman and Nick Karmy as Secretary.

If any of our other residents wish to volunteer as a trustee to assist in this venture, then please contact the Parish Clerk. We have been in touch with Tricolour, our fundraiser, to now proceed in raising funds for the build. We would appeal to all our residents to help with the fundraising by donating as much as you can. This is an exciting project which will benefit the whole community and which we hope we will be able to get underway as soon as funds allow.

OUR NEW WEBSITE

Sandon P.C. now has a new website! The side picture is a clip from the home page. You can access it by typing in the following:
https://sandon-essex-parishcouncil.gov.uk/

The reasons for the change were twofold. The previous website was eight years old and was not compliant with the new rules surrounding web accessibility. The second reason was the aim of the government to move all councils onto the .gov.uk domain name. Having this suffix gives the parish councils greater integrity, as well as offering better protection against cyber attacks.

The switch to the new domain means that the clerk, and the councillors, all have new email addresses. Not surprisingly, they contain the .gov.uk suffix. You can see the new addresses at the back of this Topics.
If you have any thoughts about the new website, then please let the clerk know. Please note that it serves two purposes: One is to let the residents know what the council is getting up to (by publishing the minutes of its monthly meetings). Two, to inform the residents about what the council can, and cannot, do, and how it dovetails with Chelmsford City Council, and Essex County Council.

SANDON PARISH COUNCIL ON SOCIAL MEDIA

Did you know that Sandon Parish Council is on Facebook? Our Facebook account has almost 400 people following it and this number has been steadily increasing in recent months, especially as we have increasingly been using it as a primary means of communication with our residents and anyone who has an interest in the local area.

Since we have been playing a more active role on social media, not only has there been an increase in the number of people from the Parish and nearby following our account, but the number of people interacting with the page and seeing the posts has also increased. One post alone about the recent Chelmsford City Councillor surgeries held in our Parish had over 1,000 people see it along with likes and shares too. We find this really encouraging that people care about the area, the local people, and also want to stay up to date about events and appraised on any key topics or issues.

If you are on Facebook and don't already follow our account, then why not give us a follow? Not only do we share information about Sandon Parish Council, we also share relevant and interesting information about the local area and from neighbouring Parish Councils, local organisations and individuals too. Don't worry, it's not just a place for people to raise and discuss local hot topics, it is also a good place to keep up to date and interact with other local people too and perhaps a way to meet other people from the area.

Thank you to everyone who already supports the account, likes, comments and shares our content. Feel free to use the page to share information or events which you think might be of interest to other people too. There is also the message function, feel free to contact us via this as well. We look forward to hearing from you!

CONSERVATION GROUP

We are fortunate to live in an area surrounded by nature and open spaces. The parish council is committed to the conservation and sustainability of our parish but we need your help, energy and ideas to achieve this. If you would like to get involved, in any way, please email Darren Chaplin at cllrdchaplin@sandon-essex-parishcouncil.gov.uk. All ideas are welcome!

ESSEX HIGHWAYS REPORTING TOOL

Essex County Council are saying that reporting issues to their Highways dept online has now been made easier. This link gives you more information.

Whether this improves the speed of pothole repairs remains to be seen!

A THANK YOU FROM TERRY BROWN

Farewells are never easy, not least after eleven happy years of being at the heart of such a lovely community. My final service and reception in the Village Hall on Sunday 2nd June is something I will always remember.

Thank you to everyone who helped to organise, cook, sing, play the organ, ring a peal in my honour and, of course, to all those who attended the service. The church was full and there were at least 50 people sitting in the churchyard listening to the service through the loudspeakers. I hope the numbers were not that great just to make sure I left!

I would like to thank you for the amazing farewell gifts. There was the large picture of St Andrews church, a portrait of me especially commissioned and painted, a huge two tier cake with the top one a chocolate Bible. I took that into Sandon School and put it in the staff room. Over the years I have regularly been into the school and I got the staff eating the Bible

One of the big surprises was being awarded the Community Cup by the Parish Council. I keep it for a year, and it has taken a special place in our new home at Maldon. There were many other gifts, too many to list, but there was also a very generous cheque which Caroline and I will buy something special to adorn our new home and so remember you all.

I will always remember our times together. There were special services in church and in the churchyard. There is Tea on the Green, well established, and perhaps that special Christmas in lockdown. It didn't stop us worshipping and I loved our drive-in Carol service in Sandon playground even if it was raining and all sat in their cars. Perhaps the loveliest Crib service was on Christmas Eve 2020 when I invited parents and children to come to the churchyard for a short service at 4 p.m. It was a bitterly cold day, and we had our beautiful crib scene under the large bean tree. At first, I didn't think anyone would come but just before 4 p.m. families arrived, and we estimated that there were 100 people in attendance. We sang Away in a Manger and had a short prayer and blessing before going over to the outside of the Crown public house for hot chocolate to warm us up.

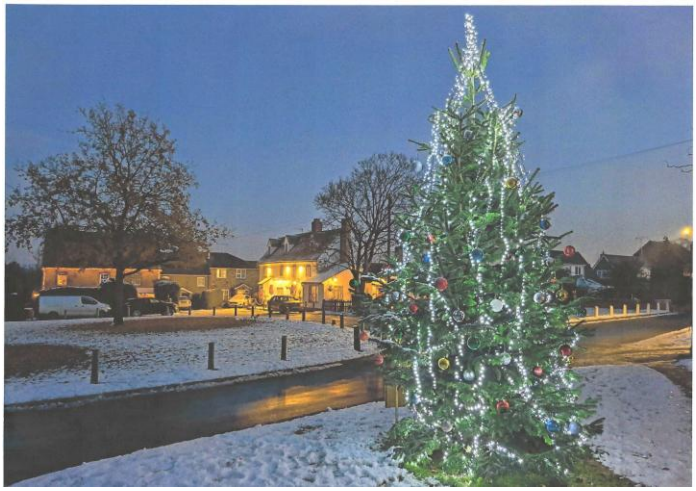

It has been a real privilege to serve you as your Rector over the last 11 years. Sharing in the events of your lives has been joyful through the services of marriage. I loved the many christenings I have conducted and getting to know your families. It has also been moving to share in the times of sorrow that many of you have experienced over the years, as we also tried to give thanks for what has been and in the hope of what will be.

Caroline and I look forward to a new chapter in our lives. Retirement and seeing what God has got in mind for our futures and yes looking after our grandchildren.

God bless to you all

Terry

CHRISTMAS TREE

Look out for this year's Christmas tree outside St Andrews. Thanks will be going to the W.I. Committee for their help in dressing the tree. Further thanks must go to Charfleets Fencing for their financial contribution towards the purchase, and delivery costs, of the tree.

THE JUBILEE OAK

Anton Jarvis was a producer for BBC Essex. In 2002 he produced a series of radio programmes called A Sense of Place. One of the episodes was based on The Sandon Oak. This edition has been re-released and you can hear it by clicking on the following link https://shows.acast.com/a-sense-of-place/episodes/the-sandon-oak

The description goes:
"Villagers in Sandon, Essex (England) describe the importance of a magnificent oak tree which became a symbol of their community and meeting place for generations of people. Planted for Queen Victoria's Golden Jubilee in 1887."

Further information (from 2002) is as follows:

In 1897 an oak tree was planted on the green in the village of Sandon near Chelmsford to mark the Queen Victoria's Golden Jubilee. It was to become the biggest tree of its kind in Britain and the symbol of the village for more of a century.
The sixth programme in the BBC Essex "A Sense of Place series is called "The Jubilee Oak" in which music from Vivaldi's "Four Seasons" is interwoven with descriptions and stories from adults and children about the tree.
There are tales of couples sharing their first kiss under the tree, cars crashing into the tree and memories of people travelling from far afield to see the famous Sandon Oak, together with colourful descriptions of the oak at different times of the year.

Linda Zabell whose house is opposite the village green told me; "It was the last one to lose its leaves and the very last one to come out too, so that is why you noticed it. There was always the tree on the green – almost up to Christmas every year."
One of those who lives next to the village green, Chris Mann said; "There's not a young girl in the village who has not met someone by the tree, according to the noise and laughter that we hear from time to time. We have got a whole new crop of young women and children and I was speaking to some of them recently and someone said "Yes, I remember doing my courting there" so yes, there are some people locally that did meet their guys and get married"
It was clear from the children I interviewed at the Sandon Youth Fellowship that the tree played a significant part in their lives and they talked about it with fondness.

Villagers told me about their sense of loss when it collapsed and died last year. Local historian Reg Bush said; "I was very distressed. It was part of my life. This tree had always been the centre of everything in the village and its disappearance without any warning was absolutely tragic to me. I just couldn't believe what I was seeing."
But the programme ends with the planting of three new trees to continue the legacy marking Queen Elizabeth's Golden Jubilee.

IN MEMORY OF CHELMSFORD CITY COUNCILLOR IAN WRIGHT

For those of you that are not already aware, Ian Wright, a well known figure in the local community, sadly passed away Sunday 22nd September.

Ian played a significant part in serving his community. He was an Essex Police officer rising to the rank of Chief Superintendant before retiring and becoming a local Sandon Parish councillor. He carried out this role for well over nine years.

During his distinguished career as a police officer, he saved a boy from drowning in the Ardleigh Reservoir. In 2001 he saved the life of a woman who had fallen into the swollen ford at Sandon Brook when her horse had stumbled. For both these acts of bravery, he received awards from the Royal Humane Society.

In addition to the Parish Council role, in 1999 Ian became a Chelmsford City Councillor for the ward of Little Baddow, Danbury and Sandon. In this position, he took on several key roles including chairing the Planning Committee. He became the Mayor of Chelmsford in 2004

Ian was a Chelmsford City Councillor for over twenty years. He was well respected and always a great support to his colleagues and in championing local issues.

His friend and colleague Councillor Stephanie Scott, who currently represents Little Baddow, Danbury and Sandon for Chelmsford City Council, said that he would be remembered as a fair and kind man who would always make time for people in the community feeling lonely at Christmas. She said: "He will be extraordinarily badly missed. He was a person who had no sides. It didn't matter who you were, where you were from or what you did, if you were doing good for society he welcomed you. He was a very nice man and a very fair man. It says everything that if you felt the need for company on Christmas Day he said he was always happy to come over and share a mince pie and he let every resident know that."

He will be sadly missed by his friends, colleagues and his family and wife Carol, to whom we offer our sincere condolences.

IN MEMORY OF ESSEX CITY COUNCILLOR IAN GRUNDY

We are saddened to learn of the death of Councillor Ian Grundy, aged 85. He leaves his wife, Shirlee, and two children, Dean and Louisa.

Councillor Grundy represented the Stock division at Essex County Council since he was elected in 2011. He served as the Cabinet Member for Highways from 2017 to 2018, and was also a Chelmsford City Councillor having been first elected in 2003. He had served in the cabinet and been responsible for the Safer Communities portfolio. This has included modernising Chelmsford's car parks, introducing park-and-ride facilities, and overseeing various capital projects, including the new civic reception. Throughout each of his roles, Councillor Grundy worked tirelessly to support the Essex residents he represented.

Paying tribute to Councillor Grundy, Councillor Kevin Bentley, Leader of Essex County Council, said: “We are sad to hear of the loss of our dear friend and fellow Councillor Ian Grundy. I have known Ian for many years, he was incredibly well liked, a kind and calm presence in the chamber. Ian was a great servant to his residents, and our condolences go out to his family and friends."

Chairman of Essex County Council, Jill Reeves, said: "Ian joined the County Council in 2011 and I got to know him very well. He was one of life’s gentlemen, as well as a gentle man, and always had time for everyone. He will be missed by us all."
